審了一位香港城市大學的升等副教授案，他們要求的 assessment report 內容如下：

1. Please indicate if you know the candidate or his/her work.
2. What is your evaluation of the candidate's professional contributions to and stature in his/her fields? Are his/her publications or other accomplishments specially notable for significance, originality or impact on the fields?
3. How effective has the candidate been in professional activities?
4. How effective is the candidate as an educator as indicated by teaching experience, text materials published, or other evidence?
5. How does the candidate compare with other individuals of his/her peers working in the same fields? Specific comparison with well-known professionals, if possible, would be of great assistance to us.
6. Does the candidate belong to top 100 in the world in his/her corresponding research fields?
7. Based on the above assessment, do you recommend the candidate be offered with substantiation of appointment and promotion to a similar position at your University? Please elaborate as appropriate.
